

Words and Explanations

flushed (fluhsht) When you are flushed, your face turns red.

immobile (ih MOH buhl) Something that is immobile can't be moved.

lull (luhl) If something lulls you, it makes you feel calm and sleepy.

molten (MOHL tuhn) If something is molten, it has been melted into a liquid by extreme heat.

murky (MUR kee) If something is murky, it is dark and difficult to see through.

pivotal (PIHV uh tuhl) A pivotal event is extremely important and can completely change the way things turn out.

profound (pruh FOWND) A profound feeling or experience affects you deeply.

relentless (rih LEHNT lihs) Something that is relentless keeps going on and on for a very long time.

unprecedented (uhn PREHS uh DEHN tihd) If something is unprecedented, it has never happened before.

volition (voh LIHSH uhn) When you act on your own volition, you have the power and freedom to make your own decisions.

“I will be free, even to the uttermost, as I please, in words.”

—William Shakespeare